Sectarianism on Social Media

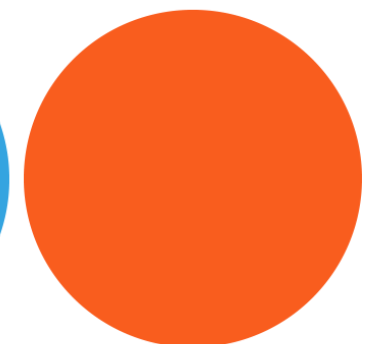

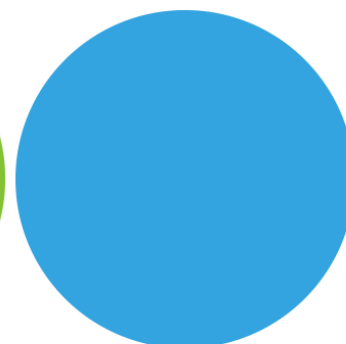

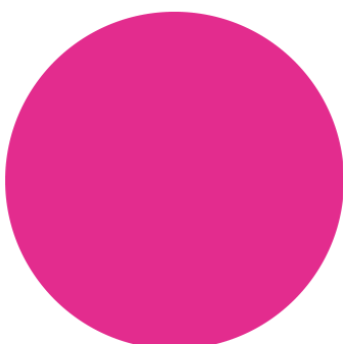

A collection of tweets and other social media posts that show what sectarianism looks like on social media. These posts are all screenshots taken from Twitter or Facebook and only show a snapshot of comments made online, primarily during football matches between Celtic and Rangers football clubs. Some posts were also collected at the time of an Orange March in Glasgow. All names and twitter handles have been obscured.

For practitioners these examples can be used when discussing sectarianism or hate behaviour on social media. Please be aware that the posts in this document contain sectarian and other strong language.

These posts are reproduced for training purposes only and do not reflect the views of Action on Sectarianism or YouthLink Scotland.
